Updating via Internet

Charts

By default the Viewer is set to update via the internet. If updating via the internet has been disabled, you will receive an alert on the 'Charts' pane, and a link to fix it in Settings.

Once the 'Online' checkbox is checked, you are ready to download and update charts via the internet.

It is recommended that you start by clicking the 'Update catalogues and permits', to get the latest catalogues and permits first.

After Online has been checked in 'Settings', the Viewer will also check for new catalogue and permits every time you open it.

Once the update is complete, you'll notice the change of color in the 'AVCS Catalogue', 'AIO Catalogue' and the 'Charts Licences' boxes. A white background signifies that they are up-to-date. You may also notice that 'Update Charts' will now show, the amount of data needed to do a complete update.

Once the download has been completed, you'll notice that 'Up to date' and a checkmark will appear in the box. Should you require one, you may also create an ENC holding report, by clicking the document icon.

NavAreas

To download or update NavArea Warnings, click the 'Refresh' button.

Note that depending on the type of warning, double-clicking a warning on the right-hand side, will zoom to that location while also changing the layerview to NavArea Warnings. But you may also chose to show the NavArea Warnings from the layer menu. You may change between different NavAreas in the drop down menu.

AENP

To update AENP, it first needs to be activated. Click the 'Activate on this computer' button. The activation process usually completes within a few minutes.

Once the activation complete. The AENP catalogue and permit will start downloading automatically.
